Exploring Careers in Long-Term Care

Resources for Students and Educators

The Ontario Centres for Learning, Research and Innovation in Long-Term Care (Ontario CLRI) provides free educational resources and programs to train the current and future long-term care (LTC) workforce. We partner with LTC homes and schools to help support experiential learning, where students can gain skills, knowledge and experience in real-life work settings.

How can students learn about careers in LTC?

LTC Career Profiles - Learn about LTC and the benefits of working in the sector and browse profiles of specific roles

LTC Career Videos - Explore videos of different careers in LTC captured as interviews with team members

How can educators facilitate co-op placements in LTC?

Experiential Learning Guidebook - Learn how to create partnerships with LTC homes and plan co-op placements

Student Eligibility for LTC Co-op Placement - Review student eligibility requirements, such as vaccines and police checks

Training Videos and Resources - Explore videos and resources related to providing care and services in LTC

Questions? Let's Connect!

For more information, please contact Laura Knowlton, Project Manager at laura.knowlton@the-ria.ca